Such tactics have been made necessary at many points by the condition of the terrain and the eavily defended positions with their ristling machine gun nests.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED.

"It is the acme of hypocrisy when England gives these notorious traitors, a testimonial that they are waging legitimate warfare." the Cologne Gazette says. "This recognition will remain only a recognition on paper if the central powers, as they have so far, remain victorious against the world attack," says the Frankfort Gazette. "Our defeat alone could assist the Czecho-Slovaks in that political independence which the entente grants them so hastily. Nevertheless it is a serious step, the importance of which we must not underestimate from the viewpoint of propaganda."

The total allied casualties may not be as large as the number of German prisoners captured.

The German artillery fire and aerial activity has decreased along the Vesle, where the French and Americans maintain their pressure.

Aerial operations still are intense. On the British front, twenty-eight German machines were put out of action Wednesday, while British lost fifteen. Bombs have been dropped on railway junctions within the German lines and British aviators have flown into Germany to attack Thionville and Offenburg. American aviators have brought down two more energy machines and

SAXON SUCCEEDS GEN.

VON MUDRA IN COMMAND

French Headquarters in France, Aug. 16.—The successor of Gen. Von Mudra, who commanded the First German army in the attack on Gen. Gouraud's garmy in the Champagne last month, apparently is Gen. Von Carlowitz, a Saxon, who had been minister of war in Dresden and had distinguished himself in leading a Saxon army corps in the offensive of this year.

Gen. Von Boehn, who commands the new army group recently formed, led the Ninth corps, which helped to sack Louvain. He is credited with saving the German army after Gen. Mangin's statack on July 18, but has been forced to accept the chief responsibility for such failures as that of the battle of Malmaison last fall and the retreat from the Marne this spring.

"Two months ago had anyone told me there was anything that would do whooping cough and good I would now thought them entirely wrong. I thought anyone with this complaint just had to tough it out." said Mrs. O. T. Banks, who lives at 350 North 54th St., Birmingham, Ala., to our representative several days ago.

"But now I know better. My two little girls had whooping cough and were baving a terrible time of it. Lung-Vita was called to my attention and I tried it. The first bottle of the medicine cured both of the kiddies, and I could see the good results from the first dose or two. Now they laven't a sign of the discase."

A bottle of Lung-Vita costs only a small amount, but will last a long time. Your druggist or dealer should handle Lung-Vita, but if he does not, with Nashville Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn.—(Adv.)

(Associated Press.) Allied pressure has been effectively renewed against the German line in the region of Roye, on the Picardy battle front. The enemy is clinging determinedly to this town as a bulwark of the positions he took up after being driven back from the Amiens re-gion. Both the French and the Brit-ish are pushing closer, however, and making his prolonged tenancy of the place doubtful.

London last night reported the British lines advanced northwest of Roye, in the neighborhood of Damery and Parvillers, while today Paris reports a forward movement on the part of the French west and southwest of Roye on a front of about two and a half miles. Roye is fast becoming the vir-tual apex of a salient which will soon invite a crushing allied stroke if the Fighting activity in Picardy is con-fined to local actions. There are no signs that the heavier combats of earlier in the week are about to be resumed, although the artillery on both sides continues active.

On the line between Chaulnes and ment embracing large portions of two Roye, where the Germans are said to hoye, where the Germans are said to have a large number of men, Chandian troops have pushed further eastward by completing the occupation of the villages of Parvillers and Damery. These points are about two miles west of the highway and railroad running north and south through Chaulnes and Roye.

Apparently the enemy has completed his withdrawal movement in the Hebu-terne sector, north of Albert. Berlin announces officially that German troops were withdrawn from small sa-lients. However, it is not yet clear lients. However, it is not yet clear how far the Germans have retired. The enemy still holds Albert, but the Brit-ish are in the western outskirts.

Between the Oise and the Matz the French continue their steady pressure and have gained additional high ground west of the Oise and northwest of Ribecourt. The Germans fought hard to hold Monolithe and Attiche farms, but were finally driven out by Gen. Humbert's men. The farms are east of Thiescourt wood and are on the high ground dominating the River Divette, a small tributary of the Oise.

Appointment of Gen. Von. Boehn who led the retirement from the Marne, to the command of the German Between the Oise and the Matz the

PRESENCE OF SOLDIERS

Playe.

In the east from Moscow to Vladivostok and from the White sea to the Caspian the situation daily becomes more interesting and more menacing to Germany. From Archangel allied troops have made good progress southward toward Vologda and apparently are operating in three columns against the bolsheviki, whose opposition is reported to have been fairly determined. The occupation of Baku by British troops who came north through Persia from Bagdad is a blow to German and Turkish pretensions in the Caucasus. To the north the Czecho-Slovaks are in force along the Volga under the command of experienced Russian generals. Gov. Dorsey Asked to Withdraw Troops From Columbus, Ga.
